

ELECTROCUTED.

Dr. Buchanan, Wife Murderer, Dies by Electricity.

A Big Effort Made to Save His Life in Vain.

Gov. Morton Compelled to Refuse the Despairing Wife's Appeal—One of the Most Exciting Legal Struggles in the Annals of Crime.

SIXO SIXO, N. Y., July 2.—Dr. Robert Buchanan, who poisoned his second wife for her money, was electrocuted shortly before noon Monday.

The witnesses entered the death chamber at 11:12, the current was turned on at 11:23, 1,740 volts for four seconds, reduced to 400 volts, left on for 30 seconds, when it was turned on to 1,740 volts again and gradually reduced.

Buchanan entered the room with his eyes closed, and did not open his eyes at all. He walked along beside the attendant without assistance to the chair. His leg was slightly scorched and smoked during the last few seconds of the execution. The body was perfectly motionless after the current was turned on.

DR. BUCHANAN.

Thirty-two seconds after the current was turned off Buchanan was examined by the physicians, who discovered a slight pulsation of the heart.
The victim also gasped, and the doctors declared that life was not extinct.
The current was again turned on full force of 1,740 volts, where it was held for 23 seconds, when it was again turned off. Buchanan was dead at 11:23 a. m.

When the doctor awoke Monday morning, after a few hours of troubled sleep, he realized for the first time that the day of his doom had arrived.
Several times in his remarkable fight for life he had been near the hour set for his execution as he was Sunday night, but always some act of executive clemency or some new legal maneuver intervened to grant him a new respite. Sunday night no such good news reached him, but he knew before he retired that the hope still remained that the latest efforts of his lawyers to save him from the fatal chair might, in the opinion of the attorney general, entitle him to another chance to have his case reviewed by the courts, but while the doomed man slept the following message came to Warden Sage and made his duty plain:

SYRACUSE, N. Y., June 30, 1895.
To Warden I. V. Sage, Sing Sing Prison, Sing Sing, N. Y.: I do not think the last proceedings operate as a stay. Have no further advice to give.
T. E. HANCOCK,
Attorney General.

The warden was at his desk soon after 7 o'clock and at once issued the usual orders in regard to the details of the execution.

The prisoners not employed in the shops were ordered to be kept in their cells until 12 o'clock and the final preparations for the execution were begun under the direction of State Electrician B. F. Davis, who arrived from New York on the first train Monday morning.

Mrs. Buchanan returned from Rhine-cliff at 10:30 o'clock. She was met at the depot by an officer from prison.
She wished to be driven to the prison, but it was thought best not to allow this, so she was driven away, and is supposed to have been taken to Mrs.
Sage's private apartments. It is understood that in her interview with the governor she pleaded with him on her knees, the governor, who was very much affected, told her that as far as any assistance he could render her he would be glad to do so, but that he could not possibly prevent the law taking its course.

At 11:14 a. m. a message was received from the governor's private secretary, stating that the governor had no further communication to make to Warden Sage, and a moment later a telegram signed by Arthur C. Butt and Geo. W. Griffin, Buchanan's attorneys, was received. It was dated New York and read:

"Opinion of attorney-general misleading and misstates facts as to appeal. Buchanan's case is in the United States supreme court and your authority is stayed. You must choose between supposed duty to the State and obedience to the supreme heads of our country."

ernment Attorney L. D. McKissick there affirmed will be appealed to the U. S. supreme court.
